The event was well attended and got great reviews, even with the high temperature on the second day. Director Schuette, Director Sterrett, and Steve King participated in the tour.

No action taken.

Item #21 For Possible Action: Strategic Planning Process

Mr. James presented CWSD's historic goals and focus before 1997, after the 1997 flood, and the

DRAFT

2022 strategic planning results. Each month leading up to the Strategic Planning Session in November staff will review different CWSD information in preparation for the workshop.

No action taken.

Item #22 For Possible Action: Discuss CWSD's Role on the CTWCD Board

Mr. James reported on the history of CWSD's involvement with CTWCD as an original and continuous member of their Board. In recent months, the proposal for an Interlocal Agreement between the two entities to transfer funding from CTWCD to CWSD for Carson River projects is being considered to streamline the funding process. In these discussions, the question of whether CWSD should retain a seat on its Board was brought up. Mr. James led a lengthy discussion on the changing goals of the CTWCD during its history and whether CWSD needed to be involved. The consensus remained that the input of CWSD with its knowledge and expertise of the Carson River Watershed, especially during flooding events is a valuable resource to CTWCD and should not be lost. Chairperson Workman reported that he and Director Giomi had met with the CTWCD Chairperson and discussed the potential funding and the CWSD representation on the Board. The Administrative Committee at their July 5, 2024, meeting also discussed this issue and determined the importance of keeping CWSD active on the CTWCD Board.

Chairperson Workman stated we bring more than just funding requests to the Board; we have full knowledge of the watershed from the top to the bottom. And there may be a time when they need us or we need them and having that person on that Board just expedites that whole process. Our Administrative Committee supported strongly that that we maintain a position on that board.

No action taken.

Item #23 For Possible Action: General Manager Annual Review

Chairperson Workman stated that the Administrative Committee voted to recommend approval of the General Manager Review. Mr. James scored 29 out of 30 points, extremely high marks, and a lot of good comments. During our Administrative Committee reviews, as always, Mr. James is very, very quick to recognize his staff and, and their accomplishments. Every month we see the staff report where they log their activities, the bus tour, going in and out of the schools and all that is a tremendous workload and a great job of leadership. Putting the team together, keeping it functioning, and keeping it all on track. It is a nice thing, too, that we have staff that know their jobs well and are recognized all over the state and the country.

Kudos around the room on a job well done, as usual by Mr. James.

Committee Member Griffith motioned to approve the General Manager Annual Review as presented. Director Stodieck seconded the motion and the Board unanimously approved it.

Item #24 For Discussion Only: Staff Reports

Mr. James reported the following:

• He will be going to Elko next week for the Department of Water Resources (DWR) kickoff meeting of the Humbolt Working Group of which he is officially a member. DWR is trying to figure out how to deal with the impacts groundwater pumping has on surface flows. The process developed in the Humboldt watershed may be used in other watersheds in the state. He thinks it is really good for CWSD to be part of this advisory group so we are prepared as we move forward to know what we can do and make sure whatever is being proposed works for everyone. That is always our goal, and we can work for everyone. How do you protect the senior water users? How do you protect the other users that are out there? Etc.

- He gave kudos to Directors Giomi and Schuette regarding Carson City's public meeting with the EPA to talk about the Mercury Superfund Site status and its ramifications in the watershed. There is now a process in place and they are looking to try to resolve this. One of the ideas is to bring NDEP and people in charge of the Superfund Site in when a project comes forward. They would vet it first and say okay, this is how it goes through, and then push it forward for FEMA disaster and try to get those kinds of relationships built. We are looking for a local solution and it was really good to hear their positive input. He thinks it was because of Director Giomi and Director Schuette's comments during the presentation to the Carson City Supervisors that got the EPA's attention.
- On June 20 he will give a presentation on the 30-Year Regional Water Plan to Lyon County, Douglas County, and the Stagecoach General Improvement District

Ms. Marsh reported on the following:

• The entire office staff has been extremely busy this month! The bus tour and the High-Water Mark event at Lahontan Dam both took a lot of planning. She has been busy with Ed on the 30-Year Regional Water Plan which is going well. She has been working on Carson City pumping reports. There is no shortage of spreadsheets, very large spreadsheets! Everything is going really well!

Item #14 For Discussion Only: Directors & Committee Members Reports

- Committee Member Griffith reported he attended a great training In Washington, DC provided by the National Association of Counties Learning Institute.
- Director Sterrett reported he enjoyed the 2-day watershed bus tour! He learned a lot and he thinks it is a very good thing that we are doing with that event.
- Director Hales reported that Ms. Hunt's presentation on Low Impact Development (LID) was well received by her county Board and she has even received comments from the public saying it is time we did this. She is happy to see that progress has been made and people are open to this.
- Director Gardner reported it is important that we integrate some of these low impact development aspects into coming projects. That would be terrific. I think that would send a good message to the public and our developers. It is a really impressive presentation!

Item #15 For Discussion Only: Public Comment - None

There being no further business before the Board, Chairperson Workman adjourned the meeting at 7:47 pm.

Respectfully submitted,

Catrina Schambra

AGENDA ITEM #11

CARSON WATER SUBCONSERVANCY DISTRICT

TO: Board of Directors

FROM: Edwin James

DATE: July 17, 2024

SUBJECT: Agenda Item #11 – For Possible Action: Review the Draft Agreement

between CTWCD and CWSD

DISCUSSION: Attached is the latest draft agreement for CWSD to receive funding from Carson Truckee Water Conservancy District (CTWCD) for river projects. Each year CWSD and CTWCD receive funding requests from the same entities for the same projects. This requires two agreements and doubles the workload on our funding partners. Instead of duplicating the same effort for the same projects, CTWCD would provide CWSD with the funding they receive in the Carson River Watershed. CWSD would use these funds for a pre-determined list of projects in the Carson River Watershed. Ultimately, this agreement would streamline funding for projects in the Carson River Watershed and benefit all parties.

The Administrative Committee discussed this draft agreement at their June 5, 2024, meeting. Steve King, Director Schank, Chairperson Workman, and staff have been active in the edits to the document provided by CTWCD. This is provided for informational purposes to update the Board. The discussion of this possible agreement is in the early stages of development by both CWSD and CTWCD.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION: Provide direction to staff.

Water sustainability focus along Carson River

By Kurt Hildebrand

It's not just hot in Carson Valley, it has also been extremely dry, with the last measurable rainfall in Minden recorded on May 14.

While dry conditions help when harvesting, those same conditions make it harder to grow hay.

Key to Carson Valley's agriculture are rights to irrigation water in the Carson River, which officials with the Carson River Subconservancy has been slowly decreasing over the year.

Executive Director Ed James said work on a 30-year Watershed Regional Drought and Water Sustainability Plan is underway.

The plan will combine data gathered by the subconservancy and information from the various water purveyors in the watershed.

James said that work will also be shared with the U.S.

Geographical Survey, which is currently conducting a study specific to Carson Valley.

"This is not a master plan," he said. "It's just providing additional information to those purveyors as they plan for the future. Most entities know what they want for their local area. What we're doing is providing information that's outside of the local area so they can do better planning for the future."

He said it's also not designed to take anyone's water rights or propose any changes to either Nevada water law or the Alpine Decree, which divides the river into segments and establishes water rights priorities.

James said a review of water use in the Valley comparing 1974-1941 with 1975-2009 showed that flows on the river at the Carson gauge near Prison Hill indicated levels that were historically higher in June and July have shifted to March, April and May. That's important because irrigation season begins April 1 and may be the result of warmer temperatures.

"If you look at March, the later dates show more flow occurring than there was historically," he said. "There's a shift in runoff on the Carson. That water is coming down faster and sooner. It benefits the Lahontan reservoir because Lahontan fills in the winter and springtime."

There isn't a reservoir or other manmade structure to capture water upstream from Carson Valley when irrigation water dries up.

He said ranchers have two choices, either to pump more water when it's dry or to not irrigate and leave fields fallow.

"It's something we can't control," he said. "The East Fork has very little manmade impacts upstream from us, so this is what Mother Nature is giving us today."

And according to records, increasing agricultural pumping also increases the draw on the Valley's aquifer.

There are an estimated 100,000 acre feet of recharge in Carson Valley and supplemental agricultural water rights account for around half of that.

Municipal water use accounts for around 13,000 acre feet while agricultural irrigators have pumped anywhere between 5,000 in wet years and 18,000 acre feet in dry years between 2007 and 2020.

Domestic wells in the Valley are fairly stable at around 4,000 acre feet, according to information prepared by Lumos and Associates.

"Surface water and ground water use goes up and down basically on wet or dry years," James said. "In 2011 it was a very wet year. Then in the years 2014-15, it was a very dry year, and we see the see total demand in the groundwater go up." Despite an average winter there were above average flows on the river compared to the historic average, before it dropped to below average runoff in June.

He said that the Subconservancy believes Carson Valley will see an additional pumping of 1,700 acre feet over the next 30 years.

Overall, water pumping in Carson Valley is rising on average over time with 30,000 acre feet, up from around 27,000 acre feet in 2007.

July 5, 2024

Edwin James, General Manager Carson Water Subconservancy District 777 East William Street, Suite 110A Carson City, NV 89701

Dear Mr. James,

Please find attached our final report for the 2023-2024 grant from the Carson Water Subconservancy District (CWSD) in the amount of $3,279.40. Your generous funding covered four Family Watershed Nights. Attached is our report narrative and invoice for the full grant amount.

Sierra Nevada Journeys provided four Family Watershed Nights at elementary schools in the Carson River Watershed community. Through our interactive program, we educated hundreds of K-8 children and their parents through fun activities to encourage a sense of ownership, to adopt environmental practices and to become stewards of their watershed.

We truly appreciate you for your continued support and for being a champion of watershed education for our children.

Sincerely,

Audrey Bergmann

Advancement Manager

Providing Family Watershed Nights for Carson River Watershed Communities

Educating Students and their Families about The Carson River Watershed and STEM

The Carson Water Subconservancy District (CWSD) awarded Sierra Nevada Journeys $3,279.40 for students and their families to participate in four different Family Watershed Nights (FWN) in the Carson River Watershed. The Family Watershed Nights are a unique and innovative after-school program that invite kindergarten through eighth grade students, their parents and their siblings to participate in an interactive two-hour Watershed and Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) event based at the school sites.

Family Watershed Nights

While there is some good news when you look at overall academic proficiency post-pandemic, that news becomes less positive when you compare results between high-income and under-resourced districts. According to Sean Reardon, a professor of poverty and inequality in education at Stanford University, "one of the big and surprising findings is that there acutally has been a substantial recovery, but it's an unevenly felt recovery, so the worry there is that means inequality is getting baked in." In math, US students have made up about a third of what they lost during the pandemic, and in literacy they have made up about a fourth of their losses. However, these gains are much more profound for the richest school districts, with students from poorer districts remaining half a year behind grade level on average. Unless we continue to take pandemic learning loss seriously, we risk a long-term crisis in education for those who were hardest hit.¹

We know that parent engagement is critical to student success, particularly in low-income homes. Children from diverse cultural backgrounds tend to do better when parents and professionals collaborate to bridge the gap between the culture at home and the learning institution. A Sierra Nevada Journeys Family Watershed Night is an interactive and rewarding way for students and their families to engage with their schools. At a Family Watershed Night, students and their families participate in a scavenger hunt of math and science challenges, with a particular focus on local watershed and ecosystems, and compete in a family design challenge, where families become engineering teams as they design and build lunar landers, spaghetti towers and wind cars.

Success and Measured Impact

Through this grant, Sierra Nevada Journeys successfully delivered four Family Watershed Nights to elementary schools in the Carson River Watershed community. Attending families explored a variety of watershed-themed exploration stations and participated in one main design challenge. Over the four events, we saw a total of 694 participants.

An important benefit of the Family Watershed Night is to address crucial concerns and provide awareness of issues at the family level. With parent engagement, students and their families are encouraged to adopt environmental practices aimed at reducing point-source water pollution.

We received tremendous feedback on our programs. According to one teacher, it was a "great way to engage families in STEM." Participating teachers said that they chose our program because it encouraged STEM confidence and understanding, encouraged STEM curiosity, supported the school community, and served as effective family outreach.

Post-program teacher surveys for 2023 also indicated that:

- 100% of responding teachers felt the quality of the STEM stations and design challenges met or exceeded expectations.
- 100% of responding teachers shared that they would recommend Sierra Nevada Journeys to other educators.
